I have been receiving 80 + emails a DAY between my work email address and home email address. This has got to stop. A lot of the email is sexually explicit and has pop up windows that create a problem at work. I can't even click on the email without the pop-ups coming to merely delete it. I have to email my supervisor and her immediate supervisor when this happens to insure that there are no repercussions.